

NoVAPeers Goes To Print
by Jerry W.
April 1, 2009

Masthead:

The story of NoVAPeers

Inspired by the overwhelming popularity of the Drudge Report, especially in breaking the Monica Lewinsky intern sex scandal story, has grown in ego mania so massive to proport itself as the peer driven alternative to mass media like Street Sense, 60 Minutes, 20/20, and American Idol, with a nod to the Onion and Harvard's Lampoon and Fox TV who has to do this s all year round...

NoVAPeers launches massive new publication blanketing the area with toilet paper for the homeless. As new foreclosures ramp up to fully implementation, we thought everyone should have the basic necessities of the seasoned homelessness, the contraband toilet paper. Unfortunately, we are a low budget fish wrap publication, offered to the poor for prices within their reach, for the outrageous price of FREE! You wouldn't pay for this stuff, and we can't make a living at it, so we're giving it away! Help us increase our unverified circulation to an outstanding hundred copies.

NIH scientists in the Viral Message Department said we would need a Cray computer to decipher the references and obscure messages put in Stenography within this little microdot publication.

Biowolf clusters or donated gene sequencing computers similar to NASA's approach would not do it. The newly formed Joint Task Force spanning the world's smartest from the National Academy of Sciences, Nobel and Pulitzer Prize committees along with representation from the Network representatives, MPAA lobbyists and Golden Globe plus Oscars nominating committee said "we're talking massively nonsensical writing wandering off onto so many tangents, we couldn't possibly follow all the tangled web of leads he spins of on here. He must be a genius or perhaps just in a spring manic phase. We haven't seen anything like this since A Beautiful Mind and that cult film about a MIT janitor, starring Robin Williams and some unknown like Matt Damon... Ah, Good Will Hunting...

Moonlighting as FBI agents, the scientists put out an Amber alert warning
"I'd say if you encounter him,
give him massive amounts of money for his hard work,
and Yeah, and take two aspirin because,
in our personal experience with the disease, we're getting migraines
just trying to follow this drivel..."

The absent minded professor at the medical school added,
"and eat an apple and call me in the morning."

He further perserverated and complained,
as professors tend to talk on and on and on...

"And we've got a team of MD's, Ph. D.
and a few residents and interns too slaving away 24x7 on this enigma."

And the ghost of deep throat confirmed,
that he really said on deep background,
"We fired the previous case manager for incompetence. It was a difficult task, firing a regular government worker,
but it was not as hard as you might imagine,
all that is necessary is writing a script..."

Free Digital High Def TV Cable Converter Box Coupons:

Obama extended the Commerce Department's funding so that we could all see him following his election preening and working so hard for the people, in Mall Jumbo Trons, and in perpetuity on CSPAN and town hall meetings coming to an internet connection appearing on the new overhead displays when the 4th Street tunnel backs up, Obama justifying it as the world would have missed so much of his publicity without those little aluminum foil antennas installed on their heads, that any hip homeless person has, distributed by the local hypothermia van, for a limited time, when flagged like Taxicabs at any intersection within the Downtown section of the District of Columbia. Police are handing out prepaid phone cards instead of tickets for such minor offenses as sitting on a park bench, disturbing those hard working CEO s and executives busy applying for government bailouts and falsifying accounting documents for their taxes...

Converter boxes are available where Sirius and Direct TV satellite equipment and new High Def TVs are sold.

Northern Virginia Extends Seasonal Shelters Until The Dog Days of August

"It's a new compassionate approach to think of how the chronically homeless feel, given the insurgency of new foreclosures, and propping up the housing market within the DC Metro Area was something we thought of ahead of time and applied for a stimulus package style bailout, and it was granted!"

Critics countered "We don't mind the high interest rates that will need to be paid back by your grandchildren, as we don't think you can keep a family together while out on the street, so no worries...." according to sources who refused to be named.

Media:

We here at NoVAPeers decided to report on broadcast television, most people in mainstream society think broadcast is a lost art, and never legitimately competing with TV Guide, because in the ubiquitous digital age, HDTV includes the program names and times and what really needs to be covered by newspapers is more entertainment for those off the grid, disenfranchised without power, FIOS, cable, basic internet, Crackberries and even broadcast.

We took a look at Street Sense's stellar model, and concluded that we could do better with the following priorities:

No stairs to climb,
No paper to push,
No money to be made.

And we thought we should really stick with the mission of helping the homeless, because they have such a good sense of humor, standing outside in all that good weather entertaining us for so many decades since the First Great Depression, that we decided to give something back for all the good humor they give us, day after day, street corner by street corner, within areas not just in South East, but expanding to North West and the rich suburbs..

Mental Health

Bush Collapses into a Depression

George W. has been diagnosed MR and PTSD following his presidential experience. Colin Powell, Condolisa Rice doctored the facts and video of the shoe incident which actually hit hard on his funny bone and rattled around his mostly empty brain. Neurologists at the Ronald Reagan Memorial ER claimed a good prognosis. "We only use such a small fraction of our brains, and being a former president demands so little, so we expect, nay, demand a full recovery for Bush and the entire world..."

Since he left gifts of African American Art in the White House we thought he might be interested in working on the OLPC project called AfricaCorps, handing out free laptops to any child willing to enlist. It will be preloaded for little future terrorists but found to be infected with M$ Winblows virus making the militia ineffective.

Mind Freedom responded with it's army of highly paid litigators and wealthy patrons.

"We think there needs to be a study of the effectiveness of this alternative treatments. We don't think that it's funny. So much of the humor surrounding and targeting the mentally ill and homeless is tasteless and we need a longitudinal study focusing on the diverse cultural misinterpretations of things that the new HHS Secretary Patch Adams pioneered so long ago, and was so richly rewarded with a golf club style retreat center.

You know the President [Bush's] New Freedom Commission and Homeless 10 year plans were so well received in the current economic downturn, that we needed to re-release and re-publicize mental health issues and the Parity act, since VA Tech shootings got our best rating so far. We couldn't have foreseen a better PR model than the success of mental health on campus. We think that your children should be the model of mental health that adults need to emulate, forget alternative therapies, we think that the traditional paternalistic model is the way to go. It's common sense, as any parent knows "Because we said so."

Critics counter that the recent shootings in Germany and at the Alzheimer's Clinic in NC are the evidence based practices that we all know makes common sense.

We can't see how everyone would not want to give sympathy to the poor individuals that brought this crisis to our attention. They are the watchdogs of the universe and we should listen to them when they say "the sky [or Wall Street] is falling. It's been said for years and renewed interest since the Obama Transition team enlightened us to the Dream, Revisited.

Obama's new speech, I had a Dream, and It Came True, is going to be the thesis of his new book. "How to get a house on Foreclosure and Make Millions" He's decided to give up his high government paycheck, this highest in the nation, to the recovery repayment plan, and found that putting his kids in public school has been the best thing for them. They were spending all their time with the new swing set in the back yard, that we had to put them in public school where they can see how non-Cosby like families live in the world class urban areas like Washington DC.

NRA proposes a First Person Shooter
World Mashup

Co-sponsored by the Pentagon and Langley, Congressional appointed blue ribbon commissions will serve as referees.

The reigning champions VA Tech is returning this year, to compete against Colorado State,
full of graduates of Columbine
in a Survivor style program to be broadcast on HDTV in a pioneering pay per view arrangement that made the Commerce and Justice Department weep.

Practice sessions in shopping malls,
rural and urban handicaps will be given like done in more civilized sports like golf. Tiger Woods will be tutoring kids at the new DC Hunt Club
at the DC Armory.

With DC's recent legislation to allow legally carrying real handguns, Mayor Fenty said "it should now be a fair fight and we look forward to the revitalization of our urban areas. You've been coming to DC to work, and DC would like to invite you to stay overnight, for the evening party. Welcome to the DC After Party!!

When we interviewed Mr. Kelley, the creator of the retro Hill Street Blues
hit show, which Gen X kids will not know,
as not yet released to the broadcast HDTV Retro TV Network nor MTV4 cable, Kelley said ER will be returning, as the probable copycats and those others not knowing the difference between comedy and reality, [most politicians and publishers included]
so we expect a surge in vicarious ER visits.

Cameos by Alan Alda and Hot Lips
were overshadowed by childhood star Radar, who has been typecast only slightly less than the little people like Gary Coleman.

Media:

Street Sense Gives Back

Street Sense, a church and provider run organization claiming IRS 501c3 status said it would be refunding customer's money for the papers purchased over the last five years and giving a free computer and compilation CDRom/ DVD for all homeless people in DC and tourists visiting the DC Metro area, but the lawyers fine print states that Inauguration guests and competing publications and journalists are excluded..

We determined we were just in it for ourselves, and not really helping anyone, so this was our form of reparations for the DC homeless family we have proported to represent, and enlisted interns when in the last Supreme Court decision conjured up images of the meaning, not just the letter of the law described in court documents like Brown v Board of Education, Roe v Wade, even the obscure Olmstead vs LC EC plus the civil rights, Sufferance movement and woman's and even men's rights activists like Mel Gibson and Father of the Year

We give and give, but somehow it is not enough, so we decided to give more.

Church leaders decided to foreclose on their subsidized lease and the executive penthouse was turned into an observation deck for the current, future and former homeless throughout the nation and internationally.

Carlton the doorman was spotted doing door and elevator duty but no one believed it, as he the only other time he was seen was when there was a cute media reporter or children to indoctrinate.

VJIAM.TV's Naomi documented the whole thing on video, having hit the big time with as featured interviewer on Charlie Rose then resurrected the aging 60 Minutes, then transitioning to a lucrative BET contract, renewed in perpetuity. Residuals will keep her traveling all over this world and other planets and galaxies.

"Skinny Bitch" book review

All the frat boys claimed "we like the larger girls, as they are more fun to invite to parties."

Slam artist PoisinInkFlow reflects
"that they are all bitches,
and maybe we can have a sleep over sometime,
how about this weekend?, I've got an opening
since the Overflow Shelters closed last night..."

Reggie counters that some are quite nice,
in his column Reggie's Reflections, until he was ousted by younger writers.

Feminist and Lesbian groups called it
"Fat Bastards ogling trophy wives,
but they have no chance with any Liberated Woman".

Street Sense vendors exclaimed "once a woman has a child, she no longer qualifies as a Skinny Bitch," and one estranged vendor said "you should respect women more,
except slobbering over the interns and volunteers,
and shouldn't talk about yo' mommas that way M F..., It's just below the belt, and unprofessional journalism
that we will not tolerate"...

NAACP Claims Victory

With Obama in the White House, now re-branded the Black House, to hit the new target demographic, reported in an exclusive black tie members only affair, "we still have a long way to go, and our spokesperson and enforcer Eric Holder, states, civil rights is not passe, it's still a problem all over America and we plan to litigate until society really listens."

Black Panther critics mentioned that "Virginia had the first African American Governor Wilder, but it really didn't make much difference, we are still afraid to drive into Virginia.... Maybe we will have to march..."

As you might recall Governor Kaine supported Obama on Valentine's Day weekend so long ago, as part of his Harvard Alumni duties but anonymous reports have alleged he is positioning himself for a cabinet position. Anti-trust litigation is soon to be released at a press conference tomorrow, April 2, 2009.

Hip Hop Caucus Claimed DC as their Turf

Mambo Sauce's "Welcome to Washington", has been remixed by icon Vanilla Ice.
To hit suburban record stores soon.
Lines of Wiggers have started forming for the concert at Nissan Pavilion in rural Virginia.
Overflow is planned for Merriweather Post, in Columbia, MD.
BET has blacked out the DC area broadcast, like for local sports events.

International News

Gorbachev Declares That the Cold War is in Reruns

During an entertaining speech at GMU's Patriot's Center with his daughter in a supporting role Gorby was asked if "he could he see Sarah Palin from his house?" [likely from a faculty member who wished to remain anonymous] Gorby responded "He would like to, Is she an actress?"

National News

Patch Adams Confirmed for HHS Secretary Position

Restructuring the health System is such a bore, that media mogul Oprah nominated Patch Adams for HHS Secretary. We need health care and since Michelle is busy taking care of the move and the kids, the Obama Girl has gotten an exclusive with Penthouse, We need Universal Health Care NOW! I will do everything within my power, and fully fund any restructuring. Details to be in Oprah Magazine to hit stores tomorrow.

Hillary Clinton could not be reached for comment as she is currently studying the recent AIDS plague in Africa as incoming Secretary of State.

Local News

Cheney takes over as GWU Hospital CEO

Since he has recently referred people to the ER, and has governmental executive experience, he is qualified to run a hospital, supporters say.

Residents complain he is planning on forming a student run Gun Club during his vacation time this summer. While memberships are expected to lag, although Young Republicans are launching a membership and fund raising drive,

F Street Club Hosts Bush's Book Tour,
"Curious George goes to Washington."

Signed autographs will not be available,
but can be ordered online.

F Street Club and Secret Service has asked all guests to remove their shoes and leave them on Pennsylvania Avenue entrance before the speech.
They promised not to X Ray, Search or throw them away
while your inside using the bathroom during the talk.

Staff aka "Little People" Notes

Jerry W. founding CEO financed this whole publication out of his enormous retirement 401k from Street Sense and wants to thank all the little people for toiling so hard at the regions 'points of blight', so that this retro media tribute to dead trees everywhere could reach your grubby ink stained hands. He apologizes for the poor printing, as he had to sneak into Street Sense after hours to use the photocopier

Where do you see yourself in 5 years?

Probably dead or in jail for some nonsense like vagrancy. After Street Sense stole my idea of doing an April Fools edition, my self esteem plummeted, and I thought they said they were rebuilding lives?

Or maybe I'll be paying back my stimulus bailout for corporate moguls, I can't be certain, talk to my lawyers, publicist and researchers...

Why did you leave Street Sense?

I found my talents being wasted on people who weren't grateful and some infestation of drug dealers that spoiled the soup so to speak.

Paid Advertising:

Jerry's family and hordes of friends would like to invite you to the wedding of their only son on February 31, 2010.

They said "he finally found a girlfriend, or the best he could do, the relationship survived to becoming a fiancée and they are expected to be married sometime soon, unless delayed.

He is registered at Ritz Camera in Pentagon City Mall because he liked the bitchy Indian sales woman so much who so kindly threw away instead of recycling the best framing sample picture of a Golden Retriever. and tennis ball he had ever seen...

Mall Security will be the ushers for the ceremony, and a politically connected Reverend in Mount Vernon will be officiating the ceremony at GW Mansion at the end of the GW parkway. WABA will be doing Bike Valet service, but rumors that Alexandria Police are aggressively ticketing in a speed trap throughout the City Limits.

Lance Armstrong will be the Best Man, and the bachelor's party will be at DAR Constitution Hall.

The carriage for the event is Alexandria's new viaVelo bike courier. Dogs from local farmer's markets are planned to be chasing the two seater bike carriage, instead of the usual noisy cans and releasing doves.

The tradition of throwing rice has been replaced with environmentally friendly popcorn, but many said that it just didn't throw as well.

A local dentist will be doing the survivors support group following the ceremony, for anyone involved in planning and executing the coup.

His numerous former girlfriends were seen weeping alternating to cheering his new bride, disconcertingly discovered to be the WowWee Tribot robot frequenting Bed Bath and Beyond stores throughout the region, with hacked upgrades to be programmed to cook in some sort of Rube Goldberg arrangement that even MIT scientists are still trying to figure out.

After his high school English teacher verified that this is an authentically original Jerry W. piece of s", based on lexical analysis of his rants that got him called to stay after class, we've consulted the esteemed Life Coach Sigmund Freud on the matter and he said, roughly translated to "sometimes it's just a cigar...

You know, I once had counter-transference with a piece of machinery, but the hard disks were much larger in size back then, I just don't see how he could fall for such a small set of knockers."
I don't know where the spark that became the flame came from,
as the chemistry just should not be there...
It's unnatural, and probably illegal in most civilized parts of the Brave New World,
certainly Vienna and Virginia..."

Other experts reported that most American men have a love affair for their cars, and since the 40 Year Old Virgin reminded us that biking is not kewl,
there wasn't anything left to do...

Will Write for Food Writer's Group will be catering the event as revenge for eating all his hard earned food and doing community service court ordered for being such an ungrateful set of back stabbing hacks... [censored equal time political reply, as too negative
for respectable publications to print]

Newly renamed Street Sense Writer's Group are putting on a local production of the new age play "Caesar goes to Church," modeled after "Medea Goes to Jail,"
The chorus is rumored to be "whatever you say,
mon furor."

The Supreme Court Judge moonlighting from George Mason University's Law School endowed Chair
Bork decreed "it was poetic justice,"
and dismissed all charges.